

Plane Crash In India Kills 13 U.S. Newsmen

Total Of 45 Die In Dutch Airliner

Bombay, India, July 12—(AP)—13 American news correspondents flying home from a six-weeks tour of Indonesia perished today in a plane crash. One of them was a woman. The crash killed a total of 45 persons.

A 14th American, the New York public relations man who sponsored the Indonesian tour in cooperation with the Dutch government, was among the dead.

Their big KLM (Royal Dutch Airlines) Constellation was circling in a blinding, monsoon rain in an attempt to land at Santa Cruz airfield, 15 miles north of Bombay, when it crashed and burned on 800-foot high Ghokopur Hill, about four miles to the east.

Familiar To Thousands
The bylines and broadcasts of the correspondents were familiar to thousands of readers and listeners. Among them were Pulitzer prize winners. The American consulate listed them:

H. R. Knickerbocker, 51, radio commentator for WOR, New York, formerly with International News Service, Philadelphia Public Ledger, Chicago Sun and Newark Morning Ledger, a war correspondent in Ethiopia, Spain, China, Europe and North Africa, a Pulitzer prize winner in 1930.

S. Burton Heath, 50, newspaper Enterprise Association, formerly of the Associated Press, New York World-Telegram, and Burlington, Vt., Free Press, a winner of the 1939 Pulitzer prize for domestic reporting.

Charles Graike, 48, foreign editor of the Christian Science Monitor, formerly of the Detroit News, Portland Oregonian, Oregon City Enterprise and Astoria Evening Budget. Miss Elsie Dick, director of women's, religious and educational programs for Mutual Broadcasting System, formerly with New York magazine and House Beautiful.

Nat Barrows, 49, Chicago Daily News, formerly with the Boston Globe, a veteran reporter of South American, European and United States national affairs whose reporting was cited last May by Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, as the outstanding work of the year.

Bertram Dyer Hulen, 60, Washington staff of the New York Times, formerly of the Associated Press and Springfield, Mass., Republican. William H. Newton, Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance, a correspondent in Europe and China.

John Wexley, 36, Time magazine, formerly of the New York Herald Tribune, Associated Press, Patterson, N. J., Evening News and Daily Oklahoman.

Radio Commentator
George L. Moorad, 41, radio commentator for KGW, Portland, Ore., formerly with the China Press and Shanghai Times, Time and Life magazines, Saturday Evening Post and Santa Cruz, Calif., Sentinel, author of the book, "Behind the Iron Curtain."

Thomas A. Falco, 39, Washington staff of Business Week magazine. Fred Colvig, 36, Denver Post, formerly with the Portland Oregonian and United Press.

James Brannan, 31, Houston Post, formerly of the Atlanta Georgian, Beaumont, Tex., Journal and International News Service.

Vincent Mahoney, 47, San Francisco Chronicle. Formerly with the Associated Press, United Press, New York News.

Two other members of the correspondents group, William R. Matthews, publisher of the Arizona Star at Tucson, and Mrs. Dorothy Brandon of the New York Herald Tribune were not on the plane because they had decided to return by other routes.

Britain Is Riled
Woman In A Faint
London, July 12—(AP)—Parliament conducted a debate today on a recent newspaper picture which showed a woman's army sergeant lying crumpled in a faint on a parade ground while her unit was reviewed by Princess Elizabeth.

The picture already has raised a storm of letters to the editor. Most of the hundreds who wrote to London newspapers protested the "inhumanity" of leaving the girl lying helpless until the review was finished. Others said publication of the picture was unnecessary and embarrassing.

Truman To Tell U.S. Economy Plan Tonight

Washington, July 12—(AP)—President Truman talked business with Budget Director Frank Pace today as he polished up the radio message he scheduled tomorrow night to explain the new economic course he has charted for the nation.

Pace kept mum on the subject of his conference, but another White House caller, Rep. Spence (D-Ky.) moved quickly to put some presidential words into action shortly after talking with Mr. Truman.

Spence, chairman of the House Banking committee, introduced a bill to carry out the administration plan to help develop backward areas of the world with private American capital which the government would guarantee against risks "peculiar" to such investments.

The global investment program was a major item in the special beat-the-recession message the president sent to Congress yesterday. He stressed anew the theme that the flow of such capital to underdeveloped regions would be a spur to business at home as well as opening up new trade areas throughout the world.

The measure Spence introduced would amend the export-import bank act to provide authority for the risk guarantees. It did not call for any additions to the bank funds since, Spence said, it is believed that the lending agency has sufficient resources to carry on its regular program along with the new guarantee project.

The lawmakers indicated that they may give the slow signal to other phases of the economic program the president outlined yesterday in a major reversal of the direction of administration financial policies. While they gradually cheered his retreat on the income tax front, key leaders predicted there would be no early action to lift excise levies on transportation as he requested.

Says Foreign Aid
Cut Is Taking
Chance With ERP
Washington, July 12—(AP)—Paul G. Hoffman said today that a White House call today that a proposed $750,000,000 slash in foreign aid funds would mean "taking a chance" with the European recovery program.

But when newsmen asked Hoffman if he planned to quit as chief of the economic cooperation administration, he replied:

"I'm still on the job."

Hoffman had previously told congressmen during ECA hearings that if the fund were cut below the figure he considered necessary to do the job, he would quit and let somebody else try it.

The multi-million-dollar reduction in spending for the Marshall plan and other foreign aid was recommended yesterday by the senate appropriations committee, which ignored President Truman's admonition that a cut would be "economic folly."

Morelli Requests
Pardon Board Save
Him From Death
Springfield, Ill., July 12—(AP)—The state prison board took under advisement today a plea to save James Morelli of Chicago from the electric chair.

Morelli, 21, is sentenced to die Aug. 12 in the slaying of Emil Schmeiche of Chicago in December, 1947.

His attorney, Charles A. Bellows, told the board that no eyewitness "cr even circumstantial evidence" was presented at the trial to prove Morelli shot Schmeiche.

A Cook county prosecutor opposed any reduction of Morelli's sentence. Alex Napoli, an assistant state's attorney, said the slaying was "in true gangland fashion." He said it was one of the "most vicious" in Chicago history.

The board will make its recommendation to Governor Stevenson, who has the final say.

House Debate Fails
To Decide Whether
Farms Get Phones
Washington, July 12—(AP)—The House failed to reach a decision today on the question of phones for farmers, after city members threw a brief scare into the rural representatives.

Three hours of debate left undecided the fate of a bill to allow the rural electrification administration to make the same kind of loans for telephone service that it now makes to send electricity into farm homes.

Indications were that the bill would clear the House tomorrow after adoption of several amendments. It has not been considered by the senate.

Today's debate found city members, still irked at farm opposition to the administration's housing bill to help clear urban slums, threatening to retaliate against their country colleagues.

1,500 Answer Ad
For Factory Work
Pittsburgh, July 12—(AP)—So you think jobs aren't hard to get? An estimated 1,500 applicants descended on a north side food processing firm today in response to a "help wanted" ad offering "good, clean factory work."

Five openings were available. Interviews were called off and police were called to handle the crowd. Said President Louis Mallet, of Mallet & Co.:

"We expected no more than a dozen men to answer our ad. But this—"

Reuther Gets Third Term As UAW Leader

Milwaukee, Wis., July 12—(AP)—Walter Reuther crushed a weak left-wing opponent today to win his third term as CIO-United Auto Workers president.

The million-member union's other three top officers were swept back in at the same time by convention delegates.

Reuther led W. G. Grant, his lone opponent, by a 90 to 1 margin when he hit the majority mark of the convention's 3,780 votes. At that stage, with the necessary 4,391 votes, Grant had only 260.

Grant is a former president of Local 600 at the Ford Motor company's big Rouge plant near Detroit. He was nominated by a left-wing UAW faction led by Detroit unionists and called the "Progressive Unity Caucus." Most of his support came from left-wing locals in Detroit, Cleveland and New York.

Other "Progressive Unity" nominees fared only slightly better. Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazzy and Vice Presidents Richard T. Gosser and John W. Livingston ran only a little behind their leader in winning their second terms.

This year, for the first time, the 2,400 delegates voted for their four top officers at the same time. The constitution was amended to make the change possible. Time-saving was the reason given.

On the Grant ticket were James Lindahl, Packard Local 150, Detroit, opposing Mazzy, and John De Vito, Cleveland, and William H. Johnson, Local 600 seeking the vice presidencies.

Reuther's nomination touched off a 20-minute, balloon-popping demonstration. Delegates trooped around the Milwaukee auditorium waving Reuther signs, but the spirit which marked outbursts at previous conventions was missing.

"After all," commented one observer of many such labor meetings, "there's not much use in going wild when everyone is on your side."

Discrimination Is Hit By Council
Of World Churches
Chichester, Eng., July 12—(AP)—The central committee of the 44-nation world council of churches denounced race discrimination today. Churchmen protested against anti-Negro bias in South Africa and the southern United States.

The churchmen are attending a six-day conference on world church problems.

They reaffirmed a resolution of the council in Amsterdam last August condemning "flagrant violations of human rights," in many parts of the world.

However, they shied away from a formal denunciation of South Africa's Negro segregation when Dr. Kenneth C. Grubb of the church of England warned:

"Christian leaders in South Africa have advised us that such action would not be a good idea at the present time. It would look like interference from outside."

States Tokyo Rose
Told Of Capture
Of Saipan By U.S.
San Francisco, July 12—(AP)—Did Tokyo Rose interrupt wartime Japanese radio program to announce the American capture of Saipan—and to blare out "Stars and Stripes Forever?"

"Defense attorneys in her treason trial attempted this afternoon to get the Japanese program director to say she did. But he smiled blandly."

"I don't know any such small details."

The witness in the federal court trial of Mrs. Iva Toguri (Tokyo Rose) D'Aquino is former Lt. Col. Shigetatsu Tsuneishi.

Defense Attorney Wayne Collins persisted: "You do know, don't you that there was a fulfilled investigation?"

Tsuneishi: "...I believe there was something of that type..."

Collins asked if Lt. Norman Reyes, a war prisoner working on the programs, and a man named George Ozawa were not summoned immediately for questioning. Tsuneishi said he didn't remember.

Republicans Seek
'Friendly Solution'
In Scott Affair
Washington, July 12—(AP)—Republicans sought a "friendly solution" today of the controversy arising out of the move to replace Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania, as chairman of the party's national committee.

Anti-Scott republicans have indicated dissatisfaction with results of the committee's efforts to build up a war chest for the 1950 campaign. The question tonight seemed to be whether Scott will bow gracefully, as some of his friends now think he should do, or force another showdown on the issue in a meeting of the national committee.

Two of his supporters in the House, however, called on the party to close ranks behind the Pennsylvanian, who was named chairman at the behest of Keystone state leaders and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey after the latter was nominated for the presidency in the 1948 convention.

Corn In Illinois

Steel Rejects U.S. Bid To Avert Strike

Washington, July 12—(AP)—President Truman tried to avert a steel strike without using the Taft-Hartley Act today but the U. S. Steel Corporation flatly rejected the plan.

The president asked both sides to continue operations for 60 days beyond the Saturday strike deadline—or until Sept. 14—while a special board studied the dispute and made recommendations.

A few hours after "Big Steel" turned down the proposal, Republic Steel Corporation of Cleveland also rejected it. Republic promised "full cooperation" with any board of inquiry which might be named under Taft-Hartley Act provisions.

The Bethlehem Steel company followed suit, giving much the same reasons. B. A. Homer, company president, announced in New York he had sent a telegram to Mr. Truman rejecting the proposal.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. withheld a reply until tomorrow. Other affected companies did not comment immediately.

Benjamin Fairless, U. S. Steel president, wired the president that the Taft-Hartley Act is applicable to the present situation, that it does not permit board to make recommendations, and that "we are unwilling to go outside of that statute."

This development threw the steel labor crisis into tingling uncertainty. Government officials had nursed high hopes that the CIO Steelworkers union and the major steel companies would agree to cooperate.

Concerning Fairless' action, a White House aide said tonight: "No comment."

It was not known immediately whether the union now would continue its strike plan or whether it would decide to postpone the strike regardless of the company's attitude.

Philip Murray, president of the union, had said earlier that a steelworkers would decide tomorrow whether to accept the president's plan.

The president ignored the bitterly controversial injunction procedures of the Taft-Hartley Act, a law which he has been busily trying to wipe off the books. Those procedures can be used whenever the president believes that a stoppage imperils the national health or safety.

Mob Beats Miner
Trying To Exceed
3-Day Work Week
Bessemer, Ala., July 12—(AP)—A coal mine worker who wanted to work more than three days a week—contrary to the United Mine Workers' order—reported he was attacked by a mob of 50 men while on his way to the mine.

The attack occurred Friday night. Thomas A. Warnell told sheriff's deputies.

Warnell, a war veteran and father of two children, swore out warrants yesterday against 11 men, eight of whom have been arrested and charged with assault with intent to murder.

He said his assailants are employees of the mine where he works and members of the UMW.

UMW officials declined comment on his charges.

Warnell is an electrician-motor inspector at the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co.'s Short Creek mine. He said his job is a maintenance position and that he did not feel it was affected by John L. Lewis' recent order to his miners to work only three days a week.

He declared he is a member of the UMW in good standing.

Commie Admits He
Falsified Voting
Registration
New York, July 12—(AP)—City Councilman Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., communist conspiracy trial defendant, admitted today information in his auto license application and voting registration was false.

The admissions were made under cross-examination by U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey.

Before the cross-examination began, Davis emphatically denied the American Communist party or its leaders ever advocated the overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence.

This is the charge in the indictment against the councilman and his 10 co-defendants, all top-ranking members of the party's hierarchy in this country.

Davis said he had been acquainted with the other defendants for periods ranging from five to 14 years and that he never knew them to advocate such a course.

He said also that he supported fully the preamble of the party constitution which states that "the Communist party upholds the achievements of American democracy and defends the United States constitution and its Bill of Rights."

Pilot Radios Of Fight Just Before Crash

Los Angeles, July 12—(AP)—Minutes after the pilot radioed word of a terrific fight aboard, a non-scheduled C-46 airliner crashed and exploded in flames today in the rugged Santa Susana mountains, killing 34 persons.

Fourteen other persons miraculously were still alive nine hours after the big two-engine plane plowed into a peak at about the 1,800 foot level.

Passengers gave varying accounts of the fight between two men which started about an hour and a half before the plane was due to land at Long Beach. What happened during 25 hectic minutes between the pilot's call for police aid and the crash was a mystery that civil aeronautics investigators were probing tonight.

Everybody was jumpy, because we had a very rough trip, very bumpy," said a survivor, Mrs. Judy Frost. She said the fight did not last long and was stopped by a stewardess who reassured the men, away from each other.

Police and civil aeronautics investigators were questioning secretly a woman passenger they would not identify.

Standard Airlines of Long Beach, operator of the plane, recently had been ordered by the Civil Aeronautics board to get out of business next week for regulation violations.

Bits of bodies, baggage and aircraft were strewn over a 400-foot area on the boulder and mesquit-roughened mountain slope. Another 175 feet and the plane would have cleared the top of the peak.

Removing the bodies was a slow process. Burned conditions made identification difficult. By 7 p.m. (CST) only 12 bodies had been definitely identified.

Remove 30 Bodies
But Deputy Coroner Frank Watkins and his crew had removed 30 bodies by that time, and were probing wreckage for the others.

Shortly before the crash the plane headed into a fog bank, passengers reported.

The crash occurred at 9:40 a.m. (CST), about 25 minutes after pilot Roy G. White, former American and Royal Canadian air forces flier, reported to the control tower at Lockheed airport, Burbank:

"Two of the passengers started fighting over the river side. I want police at the airport at Burbank and I want one of the men arrested. One man is badly beaten."

The pilot also asked permission to land at Burbank, 15 miles closer to his position than Long Beach, scheduled terminus of the cross-country flight from La Guardia Field, New York City.

The fight started, some survivors reported, after one passenger, becoming hysterical during a violent lightning storm, finally was quieted. Although stories varied in some particulars, the consensus was that the hysterical passenger, smoking cigarettes in an endless chain, was rebuked by a fellow passenger for blowing smoke in his face.

Survivors said the men traded punches and vowed they would settle their differences when they landed. Both were among the dead, said survivors.

Air Lift Plane Crashes In Russ Zone; Fliers Dead

Frankfurt, Germany, July 12—(AP)—Ground searchers found two U. S. air force fliers dead today beside a coal-laden C-54 airlift transport which crashed last night in the Russian zone 50 miles northwest of Berlin. A third member of the crew was believed dead in the wreckage.

Twenty-eight Americans and 23 British airmen previously had perished in airlift accidents. The airlift has been maintained since the lifting of the blockade in May to supplement road, rail and barge transport.

The air force withheld the names of the victims of the C-54 crash until relatives can be notified.

Air force officials said the Russians cooperated in the search for the plane and granted quick clearance for the entry of Americans into their zone.

Irish Protest U.S.
Signing Of Pact
Chicago, July 12—(AP)—The ancient Order of Hibernians and two other Irish organizations today telegraphed Illinois' senators protesting United States participation in the Atlantic pact.

The Hibernians' telegram to Senators Lucas and Douglas (D-Ill.) said that "inconsistency of British government's position a case in point. Dignity and freedom of all men should be practiced at home before it is promised to others."

Others telegraphing objections were the Irish Fellowship club of Chicago and the Illinois Council of the American League for an Undivided Ireland.

WEATHER
The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau, yesterday reported the temperatures for Tuesday as follows: High, 82; low, 64; and at 6 p.m., 71. Forecast for Illinois: Partly cloudy today with a few likely scattered showers. Not much change in temperature. High 86 to 90.

DOLLAR SHORTAGES HERE AND ABROAD

American newspapers could have saved themselves both time and money if they had saved the type of certain news stories coming out of London in the last four years, ever since the end of the war. The words have varied little, but the melody's been the same.

The pattern has been something like this: Britain makes "great strides" under the Labor government. The government launches further socialistic projects. Things aren't going so good in Britain. England must reduce "purchases" in the United States because of "dollar shortages." U. S. officials sympathize with the stout-hearted socialists. British representatives confer with our leaders. Americans with certain connections cry for a new "loan" or gift to aid the Empire. Congress passes the measure, after trimming it a little. Britain gets the money. Britain makes great strides under the Labor government. And around we go once more.

Britain was doing very well a few months ago. Business was brisk and the drain on dollar reserves was small. Among other good works, the government announced it would furnish toupees, free of cost, to all bare-headed Englishmen who desired them. Moreover, the government would pay the costs of keeping the toupees in good repair.

The austerity section of the pattern hit us more than a month ago when a cultured Englishwoman admitted she had only one pair of panties "and they were a mess." This front page item wrung American hearts as the financial pages disclosed that the sale of cotton knitted goods was a bright spot in the British export picture.

Thursday's dispatches got into the next section. Britain can't buy much, if anything, from the United States. The chancellor of the exchequer said the move is an "immediate corrective measure" to the dollar shortage crisis. He's to discuss "long term solutions" with Secretary of Treasury Snyder.

The account observed that Britain is the banker for a quarter of the world's people. This is undoubtedly true, even if most of them can't write and never had a dollar.

England is in bad shape. It's nothing new; she's been that way for a long time. The densely-populated little island must trade and process raw materials for export if she is to prosper. But her industry is saddled by a Labor party, old plants and taxes. She can't compete in a buyers' market.

Two months ago a visitor took lunch in Jacksonville and parked his new English-made convertible coupe near the courthouse. The headlights were obsolete, nearly identical with those put on high-grade automobiles 25 years ago. High school students, who know more about automobiles than their elders do, gave the car a thorough going over. The kids decided they'd "rather have a Ford or Chevie." Their interest turned to amazement when they learned the price of the car, $4,200, F.O.B. The kids decided England wouldn't sell many cars. She isn't.

But American automobile sales aren't so hot these days, either. It seems there's a dollar shortage here, too, and it will probably get worse before it gets better. Taxes, our system's toughest costs, are climbing. Our debt is greater than that of all other nations combined. We can't look to anybody for aid, for bad government with its incentive-killing taxes has sapped the economic strength of nearly all foreigners.

Maybe we have other things to worry about than Britain's periodic dollar shortages.

Thia Drama Gets Complicated

Bangkok—(P)—It's advisable to memorize the plot before exposing yourself to the new drama "Amorn Phimarn" which opened at the Charnier Thai Theatre the other evening.

Beautiful Usa, the heroine, is sun- bathing as the play opens. Langk- hay, a robber sees her beauty and falls in love. She accepts his love. Usa and her father are arrested on suspicion of being accomplices of Langkhai, but King Subbhayan re- leases them because he falls in love with Usa himself. He even marries Usa.

Langkhai can't be captured and a contest is held to determine who is the best man to go and get him. Mathis, a handsome officer wins. Usa now falls in love with Mathis.

Mathis however, loves Tulya. Tulya is the only daughter of King Subbhayan. She, in turn, is engaged to Hemabard, a prince living in another city. Langkhai steals Usa from the King and hides her in a secret den. Hiding in the same den are Mathis and the lovely Tulya.

Langkhai cuts off Mathis' head and carries it to the King. Mean- while, Tulya married Hemabard, the man she was supposed to any- way. Langkhai is arrested and be- headed. Usa now becomes insane and as the sun sets on the tragic drama, Usa is nervously fondling Mathis' head.

Literberry Aid Has July Meeting At Beavers Home

The July meeting of the Literberry Baptist Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Freda Beavers, with the president, Mrs. Stella Roach, presiding.

Devotions were led by Shirley Beavers. Mrs. Earl Underbrink offered prayer. The topic for roll call was "A Household Hint."

Plans were made for holding a chicken fry on Aug. 11. Committees for this event were appointed. A committee consisting of Mrs. Lela Daniels and Mrs. Stella Roach, was appointed to carry out the project of buying new chairs. The group will meet to clean the church on July 20.

Mrs. Viola Thompson, program chairman, presented a paper entitled "Disease, a la Carte." Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by her daughters. Guests at the meeting were the Misses Linda Mallicoate and Frances Scribner.

County Reaches 93.6% Of Goal In Bond Drive

Morgan county attained 93.6% of its goal in the opportunity drive for Series "E" U. S. Savings Bonds, according to information released through the savings bond division of the United States Treasury.

Indications are that this figure might be substantially increased when the final report is made on July 18.

The drive was concluded on June 30. Francis R. Rantz of this city is chairman of the county savings bonds committee in Morgan county.

Ex-Home Adviser To Be Honored By University

Mrs. Lita Hindman Luebbers of Albion, Mich., former home adviser for Morgan and Scott counties, has been notified by Southern Illinois university that she will be among the graduates to receive recognition for achievement in the field of education, research and literature at the diamond jubilee homecoming celebration in October. Mrs. Luebbers has been asked to submit an exhibit of her creative work.

A graduate of Southern Illinois university, Mrs. Luebbers has a B.S. degree from the University of Illinois and a M.S. degree from Iowa State college. In addition, she has studied at Columbia College of Expression, Lewis institute, and the University of Michigan and has taken refresher courses at the University of Illinois.

Among the positions held by Mrs. Luebbers are head of the home economics department at Albion college; head of the home economics department at Blackburn college; head of the home economics department at Western College for Women; instructor and teacher trainer at Indiana State college; teacher of home economics in Illinois; extension work in home economics with the University of Illinois in Jacksonville and institutional consultant for the Michigan department of social welfare since 1943.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Jacksonville High school, has been employed at the W. T. Grant store in this city for the last two and a half years.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Route High school and is now engaged in farming.

The wedding will take place on Sept. 3 at the Church of Visitation in Alexander.

Local DeMolay Chapter Plans Meetings, Picnic

Louis Henry Clampt' Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold its stated meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the lodge rooms of the Masonic Temple.

The presence of every DeMolay is imperative to the outcome of the events the chapter must sponsor the remainder of the summer. Following the meeting, entertainment has been planned.

On July 26, the DeMolay family potluck picnic will be held at the Nichols park dining pavilion, starting at 5 p. m. with a softball game. Each DeMolay and his parents are urged to attend. They are requested to bring sandwiches, covered dish, and table service for their family. Desert and drinks will be furnished by the DeMolay Mother's circle.

Mrs. Eileen Peak, Mrs. Stella Rendon, and Mrs. Flossie Wild are in charge of the potluck.

The district out-of-doors degrees in Quincy will be held on Sunday, July 31. The day will include a regular business session and election of district officers at 10 a. m. at the DeMolay camp on the Mississippi river, a potluck lunch at noon, and initiatory and DeMolay degrees in the afternoon. The degrees will be held outside. Cars will leave the local Masonic Temple at 7:30 a. m.

The following boys will be in the offices indicated during the initiatory degree: Bill Jarrett, master; Howard Gutekunst, junior; Ed Hill, orator; Bob Reynolds, treasurer; Fred Richardson, second preceptor; and Don Peak, fifth preceptor.

The entire DeMolay degree team of Jacksonville will confer that degree. Members of the team are: Ed Hill, orator; Bill Malcomson, Jacques DeMolay; Harold Toussaint, Jr., master inquirer; Jack Peak, senior inquirer; Bill Jarrett, Guy of Auvergne; Bill Dickerson, Godfrey de Geneville; Charles Huffman, Hughes de Peralde; Warren Ferguson, senior guard; John Walker, first guard; Sherwin Smith, second guard; Jim Laughman, third guard; Darrow Steinheimer, marshal of the commission; and Howard Gutekunst, Lord Constable of France.

Dad Donald H. Littler, ritual advisor of the local chapter, will present the DeMolay mother's flower ceremony. Several candidates from Jacksonville will receive degrees at the district investiture.

If any of the above named officers will be unable to go to Quincy, they are to notify Dad Toussaint, phone 2281, by Tuesday, in order that substitutes may be briefed. Each boy going to Quincy should take a covered dish and six sandwiches. In case of rain, the degrees

Teaching Couple Retires After Fifty Years

Cedar Key, Fla.—(AP)—A husband and wife teaching team has decided after nearly 50 years to retire. They are Mr. and Mrs. James Loren Bilderbeck who came to Alachua county in 1925 after teaching in Indiana.

Mrs. Bilderbeck was born in 1883 in Coatsville, Ind., and began teaching in 1904 at Brownburg Rural School in Hendricks County. Her salary was $350 a year. She taught the elementary grades and was qualified to teach English and Mathematics.

Her husband was born in 1884 in Hartsville, Illinois, and began his teaching career in his home town for $300 a year. His elementary and high school teaching career was interrupted three times—once to be graduated from the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy in 1909; once to get his Bachelor of Science degree in Education in 1931 at the University of Florida; and once to teach physics at the University of Florida during World War II.

Agitation Is Art Says "Pravda"

Moscow—(AP)—Agitation, "Pravda" says is an art.

"The ideological level of Bolshevik agitation," said "Pravda," "is being continually raised." "But," it added, "it is not in the Bolshevik tradition to rest on past achievements. New problems demand further improvement in political agitation, demands an increased sense of responsibility and better qualifications in agitators."

"It is not only, however, a matter of teaching the agitator to elucidate complex questions simply and understandably and to select for his talk the most instructive facts. The art of agitation lies also in avoiding the commonplace and being able to approach different strata of the population differently."

SNAKES SAVE MONEY

PORTHOLE IN A STORM

As Washington buzzes over his recent speech blasting the administration for not providing a war mobilization plan, elder statesman Bernard Baruch sails for Europe. Truman said Baruch was "badly misinformed." Baruch read his speech again, said he thought it still "pretty good."

FAKED LETTER ALARMS STUDENTS

Bangkok—(AP)—Something about the letter of recall didn't seem right to two army officers studying in England. The officers were the sons of Premier Phibun and of Army Chief Lt. Gen. Phin. They wrote their wives who discovered that someone had sent a counterfeit letter with the faked signature of Minister of Defense Lt. Gen. Luang Chart Nakrob.

Malay Gets Smuggled Rice

Bangkok—(AP)—Smuggled rice is streaming into Malaya from rice-rich Thailand. An estimated 22,000 pounds of it, carried by women in small lots aboard trains running from Thailand's Haadyai and Ungoi Koro stations arrive at Padang Besar, inside the Malayan border, every month, according to business sources.

In rice-hungry Malaya the cereal fetches three times its cost at the rice districts of Songkla and Haadyai. The rice gets through in spite of vigilance by customs authorities at all Thai railway stations and despite the presence of three or four policemen who travel on every train to prevent smuggling.

Many methods are used to smuggle rice to the rich black markets of rice-short foreign countries. Each time one method is discovered, another is found. Previously the traffickers in Thailand had used women and little boys who hauled the contraband across the border into Malaya at secluded spots.

Offenders are rarely arrested in spite of the great activity in the illicit trade. But recently a Thai court sentenced four rice smugglers to 10 years imprisonment each.

For Friends—Roamers— Countrymen—

QUITE literally, it's one car in a thousand—999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive—what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all—what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything...

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, service-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflow Drive! too—and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks—and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

GRAIN PRICES GAIN, THEN TAKE A DROP, LOSING ADVANCES

Chicago, July 12—(P)—Grains followed an uncertain course in today's Board of Trade session. Off at the start, around a cent for some deliveries, short covering developed a rally. Later this buying dried up and prices dipped again, more than losing their early gains.

Soybeans and hard, however, withstood the selling in grains and at times beans were up as much as 5 cents a bushel for the July delivery. Receipts were: wheat 269 cars, corn 50, oats 73, rye 3, barley 10, soybeans 10.

At the finish wheat was 13 to 15 cents lower than yesterday's close, July $2.00-1. Corn was 1/2 higher to 1 1/2 lower, July $1.38-1. Oats were 1/2 higher to 1/2 lower, July 63-1. Rye was 1 cent to 3/4 higher, July $1.47-1. Soybeans were July $10.55.

Americans Pummel Nationals 11-7 In Sloppy Contest

Junior Loop Boosts Game Edge To 12-4; Kiner, Musial Homer

By Jack Hand
Brooklyn, July 12.—(AP)—Jolting Joe DiMaggio carried his tinging comeback through the 16th all-star game today as the American league ruffians pummeled their cousins from the National, 11-7, in Ebbets Field.

While a sweltering crowd of 22,577 squirmed through three hours and four minutes of sloppy action and two rain showers, Manager Lou Boudreau's Americans boosted their game edge to 12-4 in the Nationals' annual nightmare game. They now have won four in a row, a new high in the competition dating back to 1935.

Big Joe D., picked for the team by Boudreau after he missed the first 65 games of the season with a sore heel, drove in three big runs that proved to be the clincher with a sixth-inning double and first-inning single.

Despite five errors by the Nationals in a poor performance that set an all-star game record for Boos, it was tough and go until Joe DiMaggio's double off the left centerfield wall drove home two big runs in the sixth. When Ralph Kiner's two-run home regained those runs in the last of the sixth, the Americans lashed away at Howie Pollet for a three-run spurge in the seventh that put the game beyond reach.

The American leaguers had taken the lead for keeps in the fourth inning when a grounder hit by Philadelphia's Eddie Joost took a freak hop past first sacker Gil Hodges for a single, scoring two runs. Boudreau called that play the "turning point" of the game and National league coach Barney Shotton of the Dodgers said "it ruined us."

Nationals Use 7 Pitchers
Manager Billy Southworth, who bossed the nationals to their last all-star success back in 1944, paraded seven of his eight pitchers to the hill after a leaky infield yielded four unearned runs off Warren Spahn, the first inning. Only Ralph Branca, Brooklyn's ace, failed to see action among the pitchers.

The bottom fell out of this game in the very first inning when errors by third baseman Eddie Kazak of St. Louis and shortstop Peeewe Reese of Brooklyn paved the way to a four-run American spurt. Kazak's hurried low throw on George Kell's hard smash started Spahn's trouble. Singles by Joe DiMaggio, Eddie Robinson of Washington and Birdie Tebbetts of Boston, a walk to Eddie Joose of Philadelphia and Reese's mess-up of Chicago Cass Michael's bounder intervened before Spahn whiffed Mel Parnell to stop the massacre. Spahn stuck around until the second when Southworth started his pitching parade with two on and only one out.

Parnell, the stylish Boston Red Sox lefthander who started for the Americans, also folded his tent and stole away in the second. Stan Musial's long drive over the right field screen, following Jackie Robinson's first-inning double, started Mel's trouble. When he loaded the bases with a walk, Kazak's single and a hit batsman with one out in the second, Boudreau waved in Detroit's virgil trucks who got out of it with one run.

Williams Stars In Field
Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox ace who almost missed the game because of a fractured rib, saved Trucks with a splendid running catch of pitcher Don Newcombe's smash to deep left. One run scored after Williams' catch but he saved at least two more by the electrifying grab.

Only once did the Nationals take the lead in the long game. That was in the third inning when they made Brooklyn Jackie Robinson's speedy base-running and singles by Stan Musial of St. Louis, Johnny Mize of New York and Eddie Kazak of St. Louis add up to two scores. Robinson walked and toured to third on Musial's hit-and-run single, his second of three hits. Robby trotted home with the tying run when Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh rolled into a double play. Mize's single, a walk to Willard Marshall of New York and Kazak's second straight single sent the Nationals out front, 3-4.

and Reese, and by Willard Marshall (New York Giants) and Catcher Andy Seminick of the Phillies in the third.

The two errors in the third came while the same man, Tebbetts, was batting. Seminick first dropped his foul pop in front of the plate and Marshall then mishandled his double, backing up Musial in deep center.

Kiner's clout, that just made the stands at the 351 foot mark in left center with Jackie Robinson on base in the sixth, accounted for the only scores off Philadelphia's Lou Brissie. Brissie replaced winning Pitcher Trucks in the fourth.

The loss, charged to Don Newcombe of the Dodgers, one of four negro players to appear in an All-Star game for the first time, was nailed down in the seventh. Newcombe had long departed but the two runs he yielded in the fourth did the damage.

Joe Gordon, an old timer at this All-Star business, belted a double off Pollet to start the seventh-inning spurge. Pollet then retired two men but fell apart to yield three runs on singles by Don DiMaggio, Dillinger and a double by Dale Mitchell off the wall in left center.

The American league didn't quite hit its all-time high in run production. That was back in 1946 at Boston when they shut out the National, 12-0. But the two teams, scoring 18 runs did break the old mark. Tops before this was the 9-7 score when the American league won in 1934.

Raschi In 3 Scoreless Innings
Vic Raschi, the Yankees' 13-3 pitcher, finished up with three scoreless innings. He is the fellow who started and won last year at St. Louis, when he delivered a single with the bases full.

Of the seven National pitchers, only George Munger of St. Louis, Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati and Preacher Roe of Brooklyn escaped unscathed. Each worked only one inning.

Musial, experiencing a poor season for a man who won the National league batting title last year, was the only player to collect three hits.

He backed up his first inning homer with singles in the third and fourth. In addition to Williams' fine catch, Chicago's Andy Pafko contributed a fielding gem for the Nationals with a diving grab on Detroit's Vic Wertz' sinking liner in the seventh inning.

Rain held up play for 13 minutes in the last of the sixth inning and it sprinkled through the last three innings.

Twenty-two players, 22 in the National, participated.

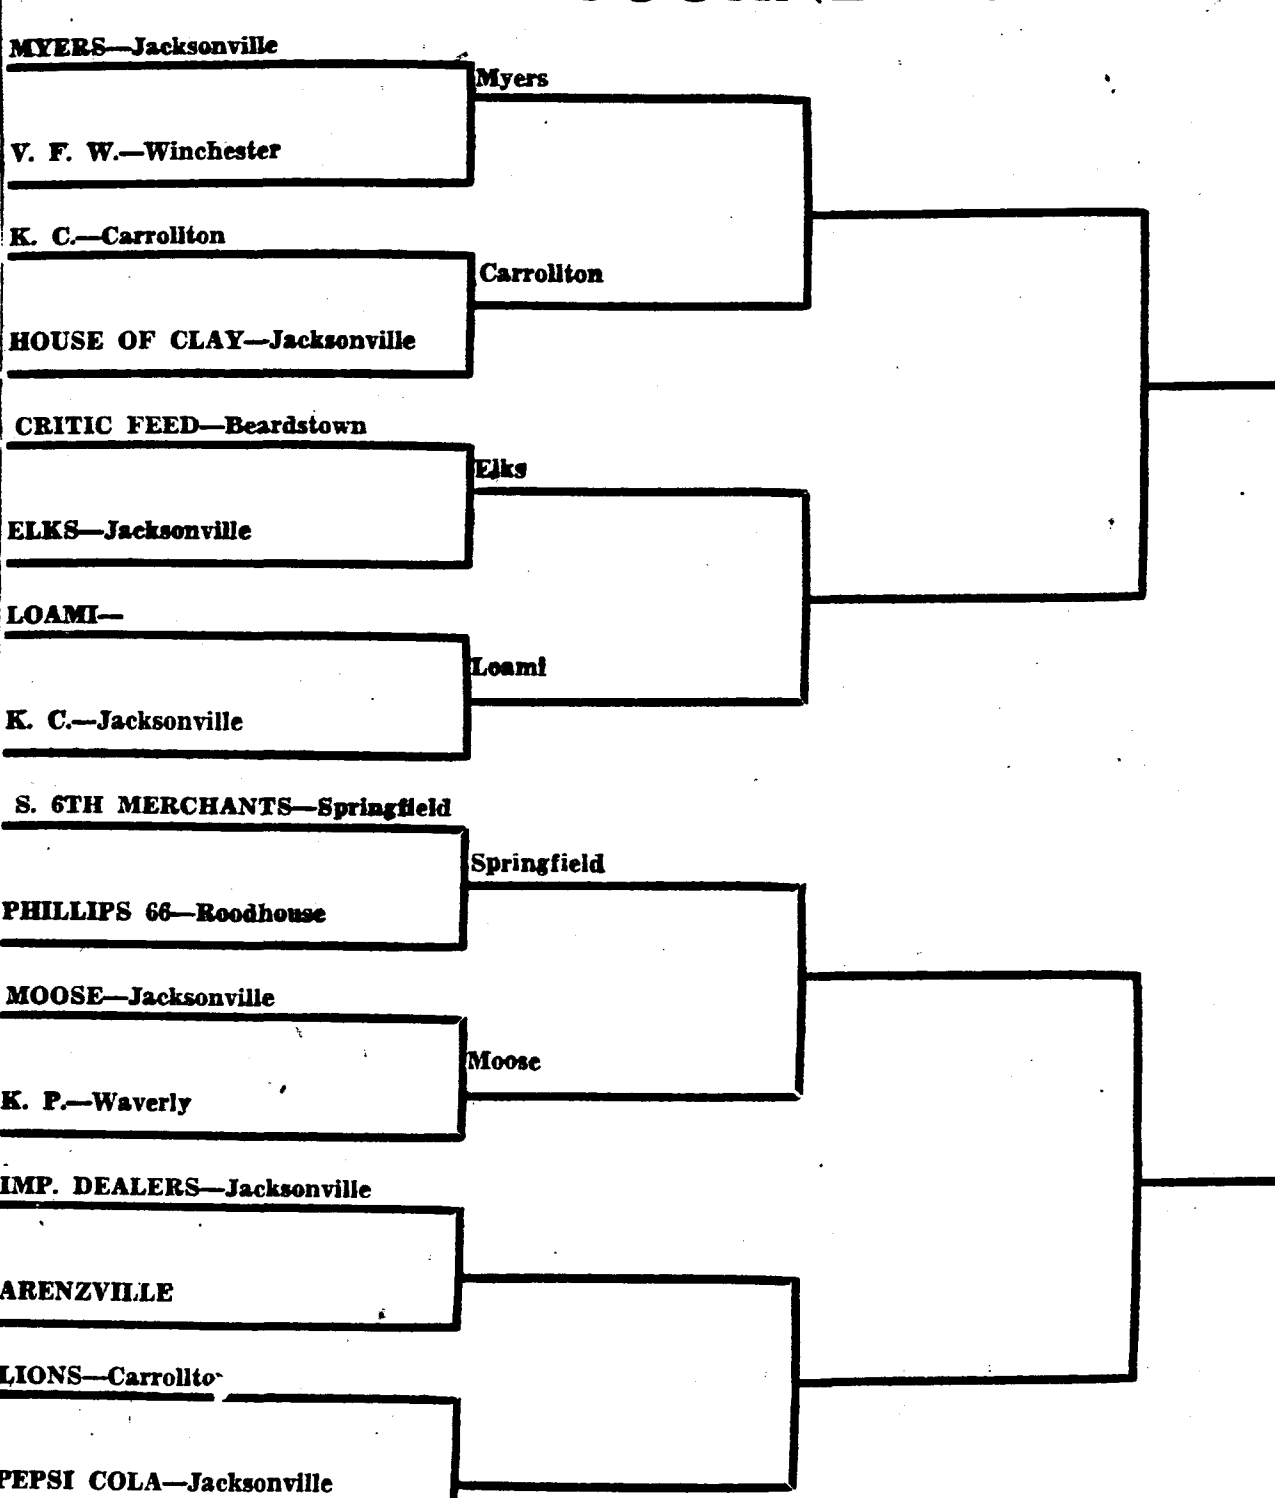

No American leaguer went the entire game but Reese, Robinson, and Musial played all the way for the losers.

TOURNEY CHART

Upsets Mark 1st Round Of State Women's Golf

Champaign, Ill., July 12.—(AP)—Two upsets marked today's opening 18-hole round of match play in the 16th Illinois Women's State Amateur golf championship at Champaign country club.

Mrs. C. V. Potter of Chicago, a co-medalist with Champaign's Tommie Riley yesterday, was spalled by Ruth Tenk of Quincy, 1 up. Mrs. Potter, who rapped a qualifying 78, used 88 strokes today.

The other upset was a 2 and 1 victory by Betsy Downs, University of Illinois codd from Urbana, over Mrs. Frank T. Reid of Rockford, 1948 meet runner-up.

The ranking favorite, Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, along with defending champion Ruth More of Pekin and co-medalist, Miss Riley, easily disposed of their opening round chores.

Miss Lindsay squelched Mrs. Delmar Huegel, Springfield, 6 and 5. Miss Riley and Miss More scored 6 and 4 decisions respectively over Mrs. Bernice Sick, and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, both of Chicago.

The day's most one-sided match came as Natalie Berling, Decatur, brushed aside Mrs. Dean Arbogast, Bloomington, 8 and 7.

Along with Misses More and Lindsay, former champions who gained tomorrow's second 18-hole round also included Mrs. Clyde Webb, the former Dorothy Foster, of Centralia, and Virginia Ingram, Chicago.

1950 All-Star Tilt Will Be Played In Comiskey Park

New York, July 12.—(AP)—Earth-shaking decisions were lacking today as the major leagues wound up their annual mid-summer meetings. But the ball players won approval of several of their pet projects.

All-Star Comments

By Austin Bealmeier
Brooklyn, July 12.—(AP)—Eddie Joost's fourth-inning single "was the turning point in the ball game," said Manager Lou Boudreau after his American league all-stars had walloped the National leaguers, 11-7 today.

"That was the break, the Cleveland pilot grinned, "that put us in front again and we went on from there."

Joost's crucial blow couldn't have had more English on it if he had shot it with a billiard cue. The ball landed in front of first baseman Gil Hodges and took off at such a sharp angle the Dodger star attempted unsuccessfully to field it with his bare hand.

Coming with two out, it scored George Kell and Ted Williams and sent the American leaguers back in front, 6-5. From then on, they never were behind.

"I hit the ball on the end of the bat," explained Joost, the Philadelphia shortstop, "the pitch was a slider, just call it a well-placed single."

When President Will Harridge of the American league pushed his way into the crowded dressing room to congratulate the pilot, Boudreau greeted him with "one for you, sir."

Williams said the leaping one-handed catch of Don Newcombe's long drive into the left field with the bases loaded in the second inning did not aggravate the rib injury which nearly kept him out of the game.

"The tape bothers me a little," said Williams, "but my side didn't hurt."

Ted naturally was disappointed that he went hitless.

"Every ball they threw me seemed to be a slider or a sailer of some kind," he explained.

Both Williams and Joe DiMaggio, who listened to the late innings on the clubhouse radio, came off their chairs when Ralph Kiner poled his home run.

"I knew he was going to do that before the day was over," said Joe. DiMaggio also picked up his ears when brother Dom doubled in the seventh inning. It was only the second time that the two DiMaggios had played in the same outfield. Joe said he connected with a fast ball for his sixth-inning double.

Lou Brissie said Kiner blasted a fast pitch for a homer in the sixth. "I got it too low," Brissie said. "I was trying to keep the ball high to him."

Britain Takes Over Port Of London As Strike Continues

London, July 12.—(AP)—Britain's Labor government formally seized the port of London today to force a showdown with striking dock workers, but the flicat walkout spread.

A five-man emergency committee, armed with extraordinary powers, was appointed to run the docks on behalf of the nation.

As army and navy reinforcements moved in, hundreds of dock workers joined the work stoppage, which the government blames on communist agitation. Strike leaders deny they are communists.

At the end of the day 13,296 dockers—more than half the London dock labor force of 25,000—had failed to report for work. This meant 3,077 had gone out since last night. Official figures showed 127 ships were held idle and eight were loading or unloading cargoes with undermanned stevedore crews.

The strike spread even beyond the Thames waterfront. About 2,000 drivers and porters at Smithfield, London's biggest meat market, announced they will "refuse to handle cargoes brought ashore by troops."

Chicago Cubs Beat White Sox, 4-2, In Benefit Contest

Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—The Cubs, doormats of the National League, had a little satisfaction today. They drubbed their crosstown rivals, the White Sox, 4-2 before a Comiskey Park crowd of 36,450 last night.

Southpaw Johnny Schmitz went the route for the Cubs although touched for nine hits. Another lefty, Bob Kuzava, started for the Sox but was routed largely because of his own wildness. He went away in the third round with a 3-1 deficit, after which the Cubs scored once off Howard Judson, although the ex-Illini held them to three hits in 6 1/3 innings.

The game was staged for the benefit of playground baseball facilities in the Chicago park district. Receipts were $53,865.50, without deductions for taxes.

McDermott, Bosox Rookie Southpaw, Amazes Batters

Boston, July 12.—(AP)—Four pitching critics agree that Maury McDermott, the Boston Red Sox' rookie southpaw, is as impressive now as Lefty Bob Grove was when Connie Mack bought him from Baltimore for more than $100,000.

Since being recalled from the Louisville farm club last month, the string-beanish McDermott has won three of his four starts for the Red Sox and while so doing has amazed many top-flight American League batters with his blinding speed.

Such experts as Manager Joe McCarthy, Catcher Birdie Tebbetts, Johnny Murphy, the former New York Yankee fireman who heads Tom Yawkey's farm system, and Paul Schreiber, the Soxers' batting practice pitcher, agree that young McDermott will not have to wait for his 27th birthday, as Grove did, before becoming a 20-game major league winner. McDermott will be 21 next month.

Springfield Merchants, Jacksonville Moose Win Tourney Tussles

GAMES TONIGHT		Totals		By Innings:

		Moose	000 020 0-2 5 5

Jacksonville tournament spectators who dared brave threatening showers, were treated to some airtight pitching and equally adept fielding last night as the local Moose nine and the South Sixth Street Merchants of Springfield continued first-round activities with victories over respective Waverly and Roodhouse clubs.

The local Implement Dealers will tangle with Arenzville and the Pepsi Cola will meet the Carrollton Lions this evening at the Southside park to conclude first-round activities in the Recreation Club sponsored 16-team softball tournament.

The first four-bagger of the tournament was notched in the preliminary contest last night when Ed Puma—Springfield hot-corner guardian—belted the pellet over the left centerfield wall off the offerings of Roodhouse twirler, Bob Vinyard.

The Springfield Merchant representatives—rated second in the tourney—hit safely only three times, but made numerous walks pay off in the scoring column as they eliminated the Greene county entry from further competition.

The Roodhouse aggregation were more successful at the plate, garnering 5 hits off the slants of Bill DeLonais of Springfield, but failed to turn the blows into the very necessary runs.

Moose Win In Overtime
Another Jacksonville team stuck in the tournament when the Moose softballers turned in an identical performance in the nightcap to win 4-2 in 8 innings over the Waverly K. of C. bunch.

Russ Chapman—Moose slab ace—twirled two-hit ball to lead the Dixon-managed team to victory. Moose sluggers rattled the fences for 7 hits off Waverly's Burnell, to rate as the best hitting nine of the evening.

Gonzales, Parker Favorites In Clay Court Tennis Meet

Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—Heading a field of 16 survivors into tomorrow's third round of the national clay courts tennis tourney are top-seeded Pancho Gonzales and second-seeded Frank Parker, both of Los Angeles.

They and all other seeded players easily advanced through today's rounds. Gonzales, defending champion, dropped only seven games in four sets in eliminating Herbert Anger of Oshkosh, Wis., 6-0, 6-2 and Alex Hetschek of Detroit, 6-3, 6-2.

Parker, a five-time clay courts champion, had less trouble. Fresh from his Spring Lake, N. J., win, he ousted Dick Moleodun of New Orleans 6-1, 6-2, and then dropped only one game in the second round in trouncing Earle Thelmer of Chicago 6-1, 6-0.

Third-seeded Victor Seixas of Philadelphia moved up with 6-0, 6-4 decision of Dick Kliner, Chicago, and a 1-6, 6-0, 6-0 victory over Tom Molloy of New Orleans.

The other five to advance were Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., Sam Match of San Francisco, Art Larsen of San Francisco, Herbert Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Jack Turo, of New Orleans.

In the women's bracket, No. 1 Beverly Bick of Santa Monica, and No. 2 Wilma Smith of San Francisco, breezed into the second round.

Virginia Man Arrested For Auto Theft There, Burglary In Arenzville

A short-term crime wave which involved the theft of a neighbor's automobile, the burglary of an Arenzville home, a chase to Jacksonville and through the streets in the north end of the city ended early Tuesday morning with the arrest of Ray Hardin, 36 year old Virginia man.

Lt. Howard Stout nabbed Hardin on East Wolcott street after he and Officer Hill had been dispatched to the area by a radio message which stated erroneously that the suspect had entered the lieutenant's home, 735 N. East street.

Lt. Stout found Hardin, Virginia, packing house employee, running south between two houses on Wolcott street. The lieutenant leveled his revolver at the fleeing man and ordered him to halt. Hardin, unarmed, stopped and was brought to the city jail by his captor. Officer Hill drove in a 1948 two-toned four door Nash Ambassador automobile which had been stolen earlier when parked at the home of A. W. Morris, Virginia real estate man.

When searched at the police department, an Elgin wrist watch stolen about 6 a. m. from the A. C. Hart home of Arenzville was found in one of his pockets. The arrested man gave his name as Ray Hampton and his age as 36. He refused to give any other information.

Local policemen suspected he might be the man who escaped early Monday night from the federal workhouse at Quincy. The description of the escaped prisoner closely matched "Hampton" and the Quincy authorities were notified.

Shortly afterwards, however, Cass county Sheriff Nick Long and Mr. Morris arrived from Virginia with a warrant charging "Hampton" with the theft of the Nash automobile. Both of them immediately identified the man as Ray Hardin, father of four children, who lives directly southeast of the Morris residence. Hardin admitted his identity, but refused all other information while being fingerprinted by Sergeant Harrison Eacret. He was returned to Virginia.

Neighbor's Car Stolen
Mr. Morris discovered his car was stolen at 5 a. m. Tuesday, when he prepared to go blackberry hunting. He notified Sheriff Nick Long of the theft, who placed the report on the Illinois police radio network.

Morris said he had parked the car near the garage Monday evening after purchasing a bunch of chickens in the country. He picked up the chickens in the garage and had left the keys in the car, intending to drive the car in the garage after he had finished dressing the chickens. His hat and jacket, a set of golf sticks, flashlight and identification papers were still in the car, which appeared to be undamaged.

Intruder in House
In Arenzville, at 5:45 a. m., seven-year-old Georgiana Hart of Elmhurst, Ill., awoke from her sleep to see a man walking stealthily on the upstairs landing of the home of her uncle, A. C. Hart, cashier of the First National bank of Arenzville. The man, wearing a tan jacket and sun glasses, saw he had awakened the girl and fled downstairs. Georgiana awoke her cousins, Karla, 14, and John Neil, 11, and they alerted their parents.

Karla saw the intruder go out the back door and John saw him get into the two-toned Nash sedan and head south on the Concord road.

Mr. Hart, accompanied by the three children, started in pursuit of the Nash. Mrs. Hart notified Sheriff Long and the Jacksonville police.

Witnesses included State Patrolman Clem Culbert, Charles Cox, Mary Freeman Wiseheart and Paul Wiseheart. A statement was given by Dr. Harold Norris, who attended the victim.

Jurymen were James Pyatt, foreman; Harry Liming, Earl Groves, Clyde Devore, John Humphries and Ray Hembrough.

Mrs. Nancy Schindler was stenographer.

Damage estimated at $20,000 resulted from the fatal wreck, in which Schultetus' cab and trailer, property of the Automobile Transport company of Delaware, was completely destroyed along with three new Mercury sedans and a Mercury station wagon being taken to Rock Island.

Witnesses included State Patrolman Clem Culbert, Charles Cox, Mary Freeman Wiseheart and Paul Wiseheart. A statement was given by Dr. Harold Norris, who attended the victim.

Mr. Aull had been vice president and cashier of the Greene county national bank for the past 14 years, since he came here from Taylorville. He leaves his wife and one son, Arthur, who is employed by the F. B. I. in Washington, D. C.

The body is at the Mehl Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

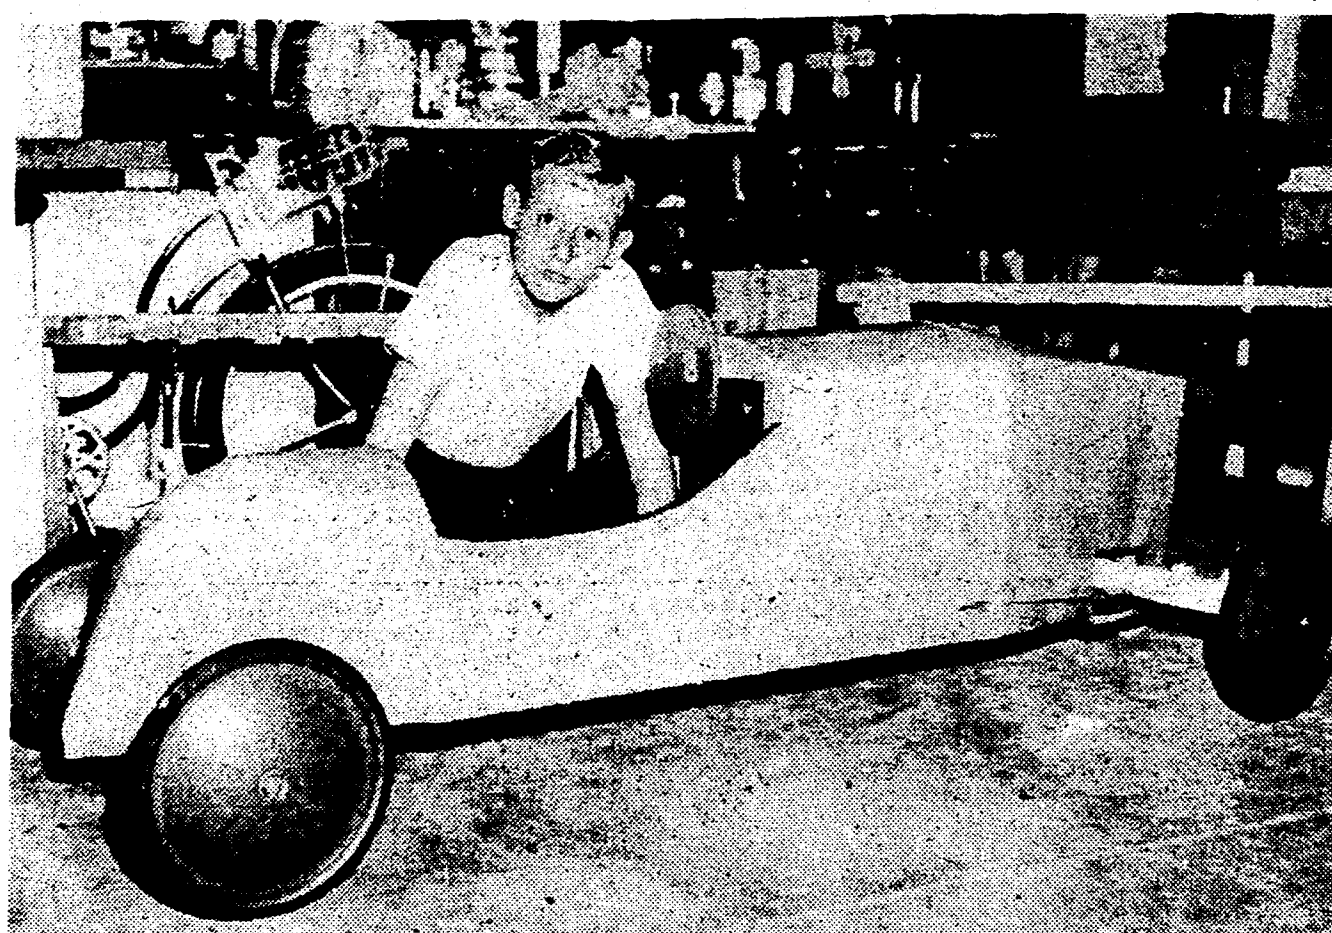

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Belle Shandrow, our dear daughter and sister, who passed away one year ago today.

Today recalls sad memories. Of a loved one gone to rest. And those who think of her today. Are those who loved her best. Sadley missed by Belle's mother, Mrs. Frances Shandrow, brother, sisters and families, relatives and friends.

The committee spotted Mr. Mueller when he turned down N. Webster, after giving a correct hand signal, onto W. College avenue. He proceeded down College until he reached Westminister street, where he gave the signal for slowing down.

Here he carefully pulled to the curb and let one of his passengers, out of the car. Mr. Mueller then continued to the stop lights at S. Main street and also gave a correct, turn signal. He pulled into the alley next to the DeWitt garage. Mr. Mueller, who is a disabled

TUNING 'ER UP FOR SUNDAY

One of the names to watch at the Soap Box Derby will be Bill Lenth, son of Dr. Vincent Lenth, 839 West Grove. Shown above putting the final touches on his sleek racer, Bill is typical of the forty-six boys who will race down Derby Downs.

One advantage he has is that he can look out his window and study the Derby course all through the year. Even more important he won 4th place in the highly competitive "B" class last year in his Soap Box Derby debut.

Bill is 13 and will be in the eighth grade at Our Saviour's this fall. He doesn't know what he wants to do after he gets out of school but he does know that he'd like to win the Derby Sunday.

Builds Model Airplanes
A builder of model airplanes, young Lenth says that his hobby has been helpful in the construction of his blue covered racer. He points out that the same techniques can be used to put upholstery and covering on the racer as is used to cover the fuselage of a flying model plane.

"Of course," Bill said, "This race will be no cinch. I think that class "A" will be pretty tough. Its going to take real driving skill to come through."

Bill particularly is worried about John Mentier and Ronald Vedder. Both boys proved themselves ace drivers in last year's race.

With his car almost done, the 1948 fourth place winner is ready to "break in" the vehicle he hopes to ride to victory. He intends to get the feel of the steering wheel, the turn of the wheels, and in general to become a part of his racer.

Theories On Driving
Bill has got a lot of theories on driving Grove street. Those who think it just another street have not inspected it as closely as he. For instance if you are on the south side of the street it seems that you should go toward the curb all the way down. But if you are on the north side you stay near the middle line until you approach the finish line. Right at the finish line there is a hump. Go to the right of that and if you hit it just right you'll increase your speed.

That's only a sample. Grove street is like the face of a map and must be learned. Old Mark Twain never knew the banks of the Mississippi better than Bill and those who will be racing against him know Grove. Watched 1948 Champ Impressed with the driving antics of John English, the champion from Jacksonville last year, Bill thinks he'll try the bending forward and backwards that pushed English right into Akron. Evidently the lads who got beat last year spent the rest of the race in other ways than sorrowful indulgence. Bill, for one, was glued to the race track where he could watch the performance of the finalists.

Moreover, Lenth didn't throw away his car. He tore it down this year and rebuilt it. He says that he was able to iron out the bad features and retain the good ones.

Bill thinks it high time for a Jacksonville boy to get into the money at Akron.

"But even if one doesn't," he concluded, the Soap Box Derby is a swell thing. It teaches carpentry and it teaches how to be good winners and good losers. And that's the important thing."

Only Six Vote In Glasgow Precinct On School Measure

Glasgow—Only six votes were cast in the voting precinct which includes the incorporate limits of Glasgow at the election Saturday afternoon.

The entire county vote was reported very light, with the proposition failing to carry by a small majority.

Although occasional heavy rains have been falling on areas surrounding Glasgow, this immediate vicinity has been visited by only spasmic light showers, with just enough moisture falling to delay the combining of wheat for a few hours each time.

However, this area is not suffering from lack of rainfall as much as several other neighboring communities, although a good rain would greatly benefit corn and garden crops.

The local wheat harvest is rapidly coming to a close, with only a few fields left to be combined. The general yield and test of local wheat has been reported from average to good.

'Accidental Collision' Fatal To W.E. Ankrom Tuesday; Inquest Held

A coroner's jury Tuesday evening found that W. E. Ankrom died of a fractured skull sustained in an "accidental auto collision" on U.S. Highway 36, about seven miles west of Pittsfield, at approximately 6:30 a. m. Tuesday, with another car owned by Earl Sowers of Pearl.

With Ankrom at the time were his son-in-law, George Green, and a hired man, Chester McIntyre. Green is reported to have a skull fracture. McIntyre was not seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Sowers are both in critical condition. Their daughter, the only other passenger, was not hurt.

The Ankrom car, a Buick, with Mr. Ankrom driving, was headed east, enroute to Jacksonville. The Sowers were bound for a vacation in Colorado, traveling west in their Ford coach.

Witnesses at the inquest conducted at Plattner Funeral Home, Pittsfield, by Coroner Walter M. Plattner, were Mrs. Mabel Harshman, who saw the accident from her porch about 200 feet from where the cars hit head on.

Mrs. Letha Ankrom, widow of the deceased, testified that her husband left home at about 6 a. m.

Included on the jury were: Fred W. Kaiser, foreman; Karl N. Greife, Carl Graham, Donald R. Zimmerman, John L. Giordino and Wallace Lewis, Jr.

Pike County Sheriff Cliff Windsor and Coroner Plattner were called to the scene. The injured persons were taken to Illinois hospital at Pittsfield in the Plattner and Sutter ambulances.

Mr. Ankrom was removed to the Plattner Funeral Home at Pittsfield and later brought to the Jacksonville Funeral Home.

Both cars were badly damaged and were towed to the Fenson-Adams garage at Pittsfield.

Cass Groups Plan Trips To St. Louis

Virginia—At a recent meeting of the Cass County Rural Youth a tour to St. Louis parks was planned for August 7. They plan to travel by school bus leaving Virginia at 8:00 a. m. and returning late that evening. The cost of the trip will be around $2.00. Reservations must be in by July 20 to Mrs. Audrey Carls, youth assistant, by July 30.

The Home Bureau recreation committee has planned a tour to St. Louis to see the light opera, Vagabond King, on Wednesday, August 3. The cost of the trip will be $5.00 which includes bus and show tickets.

The bus will leave Virginia at 8:00 a. m. and return after the show that night. There will be time for shopping or enjoying the park during the afternoon.

Those who plan to go on this tour are asked to send in their name and $2.00 for reservation by Monday, July 25. The balance is to be paid on the day of the trip. Thirty seven tickets have been reserved at the Municipal Opera so the first 37 Cass Home Bureau members getting their reservations in will be the ones to go.

Dr. J. L. Smith Resigns Position At Hospital Following Prediction

Dr. James L. Smith, MD, managing director of the Jacksonville State hospital for the past eight years, submitted his resignation to Public Welfare Director Fred Hoeherl Tuesday. The resignation will be effective July 15, Dr. Smith said. No announcement has been made as to his successor.

Dr. Smith's resignation followed a prediction made Monday by Public Welfare Director Fred Hoeherl that there would be a new head of the Jacksonville State Hospital after the completion of an investigation by Dr. George A. Wiltrakis, department director of medical services.

No trace of dishonesty is imputed to Dr. Smith, but, according to Hoeherl, he failed to control various irregularities. These are said to have included the disappearance of an electric organ which was purchased in 1938 for $2,480 and condemned in 1947, and also the loan of 4 electric fans to Morgan County Republican headquarters in August of 1948.

Director Has Affidavits
Director Hoeherl also said he had affidavits that Dr. Smith slapped a hospital guard on July 4. The director told the Journal late Tuesday that he had no further comment on Dr. Smith's resignation.

Interviewed last night concerning the slapping incident, Dr. Smith said that on July 2, a guard at the institution refused to obey his order to open a gate and that he pushed the guard away and opened the gate himself. There was no assault, he declared.

Doctor Smith managed the hospital through a period of wartime expansion. Buildings added during his 8 year tenure include a power house, veteran's diagnostic treatment building, and several additions to the veteran's unit. Construction on a tubercular unit has been approved by the Welfare department and will begin in the near future.

Dr. Smith said last night that he has enjoyed his stay in Jacksonville and the acquaintances he has made. Thanks Personnel
"I want to take this opportunity," he said, "to thank the personnel for the loyal service which has made it possible for the patients to receive kindly and efficient service."

Dr. Smith said he plans to leave Jacksonville in the near future. Though his plans are incomplete he intends to go with his daughter, to Chicago if he can find housing there.

Miss Betty L. Cox Attends Ohio Meet

Virginia—Miss Betty Lou Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cox, of Virginia, rural route 1, is attending the regional meeting of the Future Homemakers of America in Columbus, O., July 11-14. Fifty girls and chaperones from the central Illinois area left by chartered bus from the Union bus station in Springfield on Monday morning.

Betty is chaperoned by Miss Betty Parkes of Pleasant Plains, homemaker teacher in the Ashland high school.

Miss Cox will be a senior in the Virginia high school next year. She has been an active member in the local chapter of Future Homemakers of America. The past school year she served as treasurer of the organization. The Virginia chapter had a membership of 56 members last year and is under the supervision of Mrs. Carl Smith, homemaker teacher.

Other members present were: Lynden Heaton, Robert Mutch, Jr., Richard Curtis, Charles Thady, John Simms Sheppard, Mary Jane Benscoter, Dorothy Clarkson Kephlinger, and Donald Lawless.

Guests included: Dave Shipton, Mrs. Ella Dean Thady and son, Roger, Wilbur Sheppard and daughter, Shirley, Bruce Campbell, Miss Florence Johnson, Miss Mildred Ginder, Robert Kephlinger and son, Mike.

Another reunion will be conducted next year on the second Sunday in July.

Local National Guard Will Exhibit Weapons

The National Guard is about to invade Jacksonville! Operation plans call for "capture" of Jacksonville Central park at 1 p. m. Saturday, July 16. Commanding Officer Lawrence Quinlan stated, however, that after remaining in position for nine hours, retreat will be sounded at 10 p. m.

Actually, nothing quite as drastic as an attack is planned. Co. G, 123rd Infantry of the Illinois National Guard will set up three pup tents in the center of the square park and exhibit its varied war equipment. Soldiers in full combat uniforms will be on hand to answer questions and to explain the equipment to all visitors who want to have a look at the Army's latest.

The exhibit will be complete, even down to a field range. Weapons on display will include the famed Garand M1, carbine, pistol, light mortar, and light and heavy machine guns. Of special interest will be the bazooka, rocket weapon used extensively by ground troops during World War II.

Captain Quinlan said that his men will demonstrate walkie-talkies to the Saturday shoppers. He plans to set these up in different parts of the downtown area and to demonstrate communication technique.

Men of company G will stand three, hour shifts during the afternoon and night. All men on duty have fired the weapons on display. Captain Quinlan said that the city plans to run special light into Central park to enable night visitors to see the exhibit.
